Comenius, ICT and Languages projects' meeting

Our project coordinator Miquel Strubell, and project manager Natàlia Marrugat, were invited to attend and to speak at the Brussels Kick-off meeting for projects selected for Community funding in 2010. The two-day event offered coordinators detailed information on technical, administrative, and financial aspects of the management of their projects and facilitated networking among participants (presentation of projects, exchange of good practice, challenges in project management...). We wish all new projects every success! (Link to more photographs below)

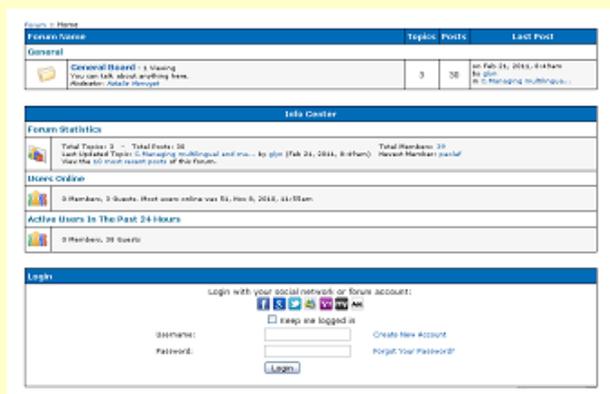

Third EUNoM Symposium: "Managing multilingual and multiethnic societies and institutions". It is being hosted by Univerza na Primorskem (www.upr.si), in Koper (Slovenia) on 20-21 June 2011

We are starting up a debate in the run-up to the Koper symposium. How can you contribute?

The convenor in Koper has proposed a first set of topics to discuss:

"Multilingual policies in language contact areas: gaps and issues in national and international language policies at the local level; demands in global scale and responses, the local dimension of language use".

To start with, we invite all visitors to this discussion forum, including full and associated partners, to suggest or propose links to relevant websites, research and/or policy documents on this theme.

Please register and participate part. Go to <http://eunom.proboards.com/index.cgi#general>. Please enter user and password, go to C folder and leave your comments by clicking on the "reply" button below.

International Day of Women Workers 1911-2011

The fire at the Triangle Shirtwaist Factory in New York on 25 March 1911 that killed 146 young women workers, most of whom were immigrants established the modern celebration of International Women's Day in history. From the ashes of that tragic event, the pursuit of social justice for women and men ignited that day continues to be felt around the world 100 years on.
