The Third EUNoM Symposium: "Managing multilingual and multiethnic societies and institutions" is being hosted by Univerza na Primorskem (www.upr.si), in Koper (Slovenia) on 20-21 June 2011. For information click here: www.fhs.upr.si/sl/raziskovalna-dejavnost/projekt-eunom/

We are holding an on-line debate before the Koper symposium. The convenor in Koper has proposed several themes to discuss, starting with:

Multilingual policies in language contact areas: gaps and issues in national and international language policies at the local level; demands in global scale and responses, the local dimension of language use.

The speakers have also been asked to contribute to the discussion.

How can you contribute? Please register and take part. Go to <http://eunom.proboards.com/index.cgi#general>. Please enter user and password, go to the "C" folder and leave your comments by clicking on the "reply" button beneath.

"The final publication of the LETPP project (Languages in Europe. Theory, Policy, Practice, www.letpp.eu) is now available, on line and as a hard copy publication (PDF:

www.languagescompany.com/images/stories/docs/resources/letpp\_languages\_in\_europe.pdf). Based on the discussions and debates which took place in 2010 it provides a framework for future consideration of language policy in Europe. It includes a review of current policy and policies at European and state level, an analysis of how things are changing and suggestions for future action... For a hard copy please contact us: www.letpp.eu/contact-us." In the picture (courtesy of LETPP) are two of the speakers: Lucija Čok, convenor of EUNoM's forthcoming Koper Symposium, and Lid King, one of our keynote speakers in Koper.
